PRICE THREE CENTS

HURRY, GIRLS!

Big Contest Has
Only Two Weeks
More to Run

JUST two weeks to go, girls! Two weeks from today the big state-wide contest in which The Lima News will select a daughter of Ohio to represent the state at the International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 2-11, will close.

The winner will be announced a few days later by a committee of judges.

Then, accompanied by a chaperone, the lucky girl will have two weeks of the greatest trip and entertainment any girl from this state ever knew.

And best of all, she will have no expenses. From the time she leaves her home until she returns to it, every cent of expense will be taken care of. She will be entertained in royal splendor and will represent the great Buckeye state in every phase of the big exposition.

Already a large number of girls have entered. All that's necessary to get into the contest is to send a photograph to the Contest Editor of this newspaper. Every girl between the ages of 18 and 28 is eligible.

There are no strings to the contest. It is not a circulation building affair. There is nothing commercial about it. There is nothing to sell and no votes to obtain. Good looks is the only thing that will be taken into consideration.

One girl has as much chance as any other. The judging will be impartial, a committee of disinterested persons being the ones who will make the final award.

Any Lima girl who does not have a suitable photograph and desires one taken free of charge by the staff photographer of The Lima News need only advise the Contest Editor. The photographer will call at any time convenient and the picture without cost to the young woman.

Hundreds of girls should take advantage of this contest. We want many more in as soon as possible. Send as many photos as you like.

SCHOOLS READY FOR OPENING

City and County Classes Begin Monday Morning

Doors of all schools in the city will be thrown open Monday and classes begin promptly at 8:30 a. m. Prof. R. E. Offenbauer, superintendent of Lima public schools, announced Thursday.

At the same time all of the 100 schools in Allen county will be opened. County Superintendent C. A. Argabright announced.

A total of almost 14,000 students will be in school this coming term in the city and county public schools. Nearly 9,000 will attend Lima schools, while the remainder, almost 5,000, will be in the different schools scattered throughout the county.

Central high school in connection with Franklin junior high school this year will have approximately 1,600 students enrolled while South high will have 1,250 pupils, according to figures estimated by Offenbauer. Fifty-five hundred students will be enrolled in the different grade schools throughout the city.

The Roosevelt building, which was completed this summer, will be ready for occupancy Monday, Offenbauer said. This school will have its student list made up from pupils formerly at Lowell and Howard Mann schools. The Roosevelt building is located at Nixon and Springfield.

Another building which has been named the Jefferson school, is being constructed at Sagamore and Catalpa-ay in the southeastern part of the city, but will not be completed before Nov. 1, Offenbauer said. Pupils in this new grade school will be taken from Whittier and Washington schools.

U. S. FORCES ARE LANDED IN WAR ZONE OF CHINA

Protective Cordon to be Thrown About Foreign Settlement in Shanghai—Action Taken as Fighting Between Opposing Armies Nears City

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — A protective cordon composed of Shanghai volunteer corps and American, British, Japanese and French sailors, will be thrown about the foreign settlement in Shanghai to prevent the entry of armed Chinese forces there.

Consul General Cunningham at Shanghai, advised the state department today that arrangements for such a step had been completed. The dispatch indicated that American sailors had been landed from naval craft in Shanghai waters, although it contained no direct statement of that action. Press advices already have reported the landing of British and French forces.

A telegram from Edward Bell, charge of the Pekin legation, said that on the afternoon of September 2, Kiangsu troops had advanced at Quinsan, progressing a distance of four miles since the movement started that morning.

He added that railway and telegraph communications had been cut in that vicinity and trains and messages to Nanking had been interrupted.

TWO MILES GAINED SHANGHAI — (By Associated Press) — After 24 hours of fighting within 15 miles of the coveted city of Shanghai, forces of General Lu Yung-Hsiang, ruler of the territory, repulsed the armies of the Chinese Nationalist government, which had gained about two miles, according to a statement issued from the headquarters of Ho Feng-Lin, defense commissioner of Shanghai. Many casualties were reported.

Shanghai, crowded with foreigners who huddled into the city from the firing lines, today viewed the opening of hostilities with apprehension and fear that the battle might come closer to the city before nightfall.

The engagement now in progress is becoming general in the area from the line of the Shanghai-Nanking railway to the coast and heavy cannonading along the railway lines was reported.

MARINES LANDED The temper of foreign governments toward China's provincial civil war was indicated yesterday when several contingents of British marines were landed in the foreign section of Shanghai and 400 French sailors were sent ashore from war craft now in the harbor here. The French troops supplement a volunteer company on duty to defend the French settlement in any possible emergency.

Indication of the proximity of actual fighting to Shanghai was given yesterday when encounters between the Chinese soldiery and players on the Shanghai Golf club links, located in the northern suburb of Kiangwan, led to an order from the club governors suspending play until further notice.

PUGILIST DEAD

Injured When Knocked Thru Ropes at Baltimore

BALTIMORE — (By Associated Press) — Charles Holman, 24, Baltimore featherweight boxer, died at a hospital today from injuries sustained last night in a bout with Lew Mayrs, another local pugilist. Mayrs was placed under arrest.

Mayrs knocked Holman thru the ropes, his head striking the floor. Holman continued the contest, however, until the final round when he sank to the floor and was carried to his corner unconscious. His wife was at the ringside. When he sank down in the final round she seized a towel and threw it into the ring to save him from further punishment. He died in a hospital of cerebral hemorrhage.

CREDIT OF CITIZENS EXCELLENT

Financial Institutions Record Increase of 10 Percent

CONDITIONS VERY GOOD

Building and Loans Show Growth of City

Proof that the financial condition of Lima industries and citizens is on a firm basis is shown in an increase of 10 per cent in state bank resources and nine per cent in building and loan resources during the past year.

State banking figures released Thursday showed exceedingly good conditions throughout the state and a canvass of local state banking institutions showed that the average increase here is as much as not greater than that for the state.

Deposits in both banks and building and loans have kept up at a high level despite depressed conditions in some lines of industry. This shows that increase in other lines of work have made it possible for workers to keep busy and meet their obligations as they fell due.

Building and loans resources increased from $12,260,580 to $14,300,997 in the county. This is a gain of $1,040,417 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924. This is compared with a gain of $213,770 in 1923 as compared with 1922.

Conditions in all lines of business are very bright, local financiers believe, and with both private and corporation credit on a firm basis Lima will be ready to advance rapidly as soon as the recovery in business gains greater momentum.

The reports show deposits of all classes on June 30, 1924, totaled $1,533,144,998, an increase of $73,473,215 over deposits reported on March 31, 1924, and an increase of $127,096,074 over deposits reported on June 30, 1923.

Loans and discounts of all state banks totaled $1,192,539,114, an increase of $28,644,775 over the amounts reported on March 31 of this year and an increase of $82,332,341 over the amounts reported on June 30, 1923.

Ford, Fed Up On Flivver Rattles, Wants to Take Shimmy Out of Dance

MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN B. LOVETT WHO WILL HELP HENRY FORD TAKE THE JAZZ OUT OF DANCING.

Auto King Starts Reform and Enlists Aid in His Campaign

HUDSON, Mass. — (Special) — Henry Ford, who turned antique dealer when his presidential timber was ruled off the market, is taking up reforming again.

It's the great man's great weakness. First it was the war, then banking, and now it's dancing that has become his pet diversion.

So he is going to reform it—take the shimmy out of it, as he did in his flivvers, make it stand on its own feet; and put the whole business on a safe and sane basis.

But history, at last, has taught Henry that it is difficult to bring about a reformation single-handed. For altho he shakes a mean hoof himself, when the fiddler strikes up, he can hardly compete with a first-class finale-hopper.

So he has turned to puritanical New England for help. Here in quiet Hudson, not far from his Wayside Inn, where he runs his antique shop, Henry found a couple of dancers who still remember the waltz, the square dance and the minuet.

At first he thought of putting them in his antique department, but then he decided to invite them to Detroit for the week of September 7, to start the dancing reformation there.

Inspired with the zeal of crusaders, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Lovett accepted the invitation. They are now practicing up on the dances of yesteryear and before, with which they hope to put jazz to rout, and make Henry happy.

He operates a 250 acre farm at Ridgefield.

ICEMAN HURT IN FALL

Steps Into Open Elevator Shaft at Market House

Franklin Lease, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lease, of 403 E. Second-st., is in a critical condition at St. Rita's hospital suffering from injuries received Wednesday afternoon when he fell off a threshing machine, one mile north of Elida.

The boy was riding on the rear of the machine which was being taken to the farm of his uncle, Homer McCullough, north of Elida. When the machine struck a deep rut in the road, the boy was jolted off, striking his head on the iron wheel. His foot was also crushed when the member was caught under the wheel.

UNCONSCIOUS

He was picked up in an unconscious condition by McCullough, who was in charge of the threshing machine and rushed to St. Rita's hospital. He did not regain consciousness until Thursday morning. An X-ray examination will be made Thursday to determine whether or not the lad has a fractured skull.

Lloyd Stout, 28, of 460 Hazel-ay, was seriously injured early Thursday morning when he plunged down an elevator shaft at the City Market house, S. Main-st. He is in St. Rita's hospital with a broken wrist, sprained back and shoulder and probable internal injuries.

Stout is employed by the Crystal Ice and Coal Co. and was delivering 100 pounds of ice when the accident occurred. Seeing the elevator door open, he stepped into the shaft, plunging 25 feet to the bottom.

He was found by another iceman who was attracted by Stout's call for help. Williams & Davis ambulance removed him to the hospital.

HEAD OF NEW YORK PUBLISHING FIRM DEAD

NEW YORK — Arrangements are being made today for burial of William Wagnalls, one of the founders and president of the publishing firm of Funk and Wagnalls, who died last night at the Northport, N. Y. home of his daughter, Mrs. Mabel Wagnalls Jones.

Wagnalls was born in Lithopolis, in 1843, and was educated at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio. He was the first English Lutheran church in Kansas City, Mo., and became its pastor. From 1871 to 1873 he was city clerk at Atchison, Kansas. He came to New York in 1876.

Increased Tax Duplicate Final Hope of City

$909,573 IS REQUIRED

County Limited in Providing Money, Phillips Says

Lima faces virtual bankruptcy in 1925 unless a property revaluation on the city duplicate amounting to $100,000,000 yields a city apportionment of $909,573, payment of maturing bonds, interest on outstanding bonds and the lowest possible amount for operation of municipal departments.

Two alternatives face the city in meeting financial obligations—vote on a levy at the November election, or collection of 1923 taxes on a valuation double the present $51,000,000 valuation.

City Manager C. A. Bingham Auditor C. H. Churchill and city commissioners rely entirely on an increased valuation, basing their hopes on promises of C. R. Phillips, county auditor, that the 1925 apportionment would be on an increased valuation with the city receiving as high a share as possible under the collection.

Vote on a special levy not less than three mills at the November elections looms remote with city officials timid in advocating such procedure as the result of sentiment which grows stronger for a lowered tax rate instead of an increase. This procedure, while not probable, would be adopted only on definite word from county officials that the revaluation would not go thru.

A CHAIRS Lima faces a crisis with County Auditor C. R. Phillips pessimistic over the $909,573 asked by City Auditor Churchill. Phillips can't possibly see how the county budget commission can apportion that amount to the city, even the collections were made on a $100,000,000 city valuation, which revaluation he believes will not amount to that figure.

The city's budget constitutes 12 mills of the expected amount in the budget, while the greatest amount possible for the city to receive is approximately six mills. Is the opinion of county officials, who believe the revaluation will not amount to $100,000,000 at the maximum with a conservative figure at $75,000,000.

City sinking fund needs $471,302 for retirement of bonds and maturing interest in 1925, while the total amount the city received in taxes for 1924 was $330,014 on a valuation of $51,000,000.

With the valuation at $100,000,000 as expected by City Manager C. A. Bingham the city's expected portion of $860,624 would leave a deficit of $249,545 or only $188,726 for the operation of all city departments for the year while the amount asked for the health and safety departments aggregates $277,926, not considering the thousands required for the health library and general funds.

OTHER INCOME

Revenues from special sources, such as inheritance tax, cigarette tax, automobile license tax and others promise to swell the city's portion, but not sufficiently to meet the deficit which at the most optimistic figure gives indications of amounts to $250,000 with the general feeling of an even greater deficit.

The city's budget request is a 200 per cent increase over the amount received in 1924 from taxation, while the expected revaluation figure is less than double the present valuation, which, when figured on this basis, leaves a shortage of one-third of the budget, or approximately $300,000.

City officials appreciate the financial stringency facing the city and are timid in predicting the consequences unless the budget request is met by the county budget commission, which hopes to make any promises until the money is on hand for distribution.

FLIERS DUE IN U.S. TOMORROW

FIRST LANDING IS AT BOSTON

Plan to Leave Nova Scotia Friday Morning

DELAYED BY ACCIDENT

Bar on Commander's Plane is Broken

PICTON, N. S. (By Associated Press)—Balked in their plan to get away for Boston today, the American army world-famous aviators, who were scheduled to leave for Boston today, were delayed by an accident. With more than 22,000 miles of their flight completed, they are eager to get back on the soil of the United States and begin the transcontinental tour, which will mark their triumphant homecoming.

Lieutenants Leigh Wade and H. H. Ordron, with a new plane to replace the one they lost on the hop to Iceland, have arrived with them to complete the flight back to the Pacific coast.

MASS.—Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith and Erik Nelson, and their assistants, Lieutenants Leslie Arnold and John Harding Jr., decided before beginning their hop here from Hawks Bay, N. F., yesterday, that they would continue on to Boston after a night's rest in this program was prevented by a combination of circumstances, including the breaking of a spreader bar on Lieutenant Smith's plane and the lateness of their arrival, which precluded the possibility of refueling, oiling and repairing the planes before dark.

The 26 mile trip from Hawks Bay, which required six hours 20 minutes, was made under generally favorable conditions for this region, although the air was somewhat delayed by occasional rain squalls and head winds. There was no fog and the visibility was exceptionally good.

The men received a great popular and official welcome from the Nova Scotians, and were taken in a triumphal procession thru the streets.

CRUISER'S TASK NEAR END

ABOARD U. S. S. RICHMOND. (By Associated Press)—Immediately after the passage of the American fliers over the Richmond on their way to Pictou yesterday, the cruiser was headed toward the strait of Canso and she passed out to sea at a speed of 25 knots to take up her position off Cape Ann, Mass. Later when a news was received of the slight accident to Lieutenant Smith's plane, entailing a probable delay of the speed of the Richmond was reduced to 15 knots.

The long and tedious work of the naval patrol in connection with the flight will end when the planes pass over the Richmond as the last vessel along the line of flight from Pictou to Boston. The aviators will change their landing gear from pontoons to wheels at Boston, making the remainder of their journey overland.

The body is being held at the Siford mortuary while efforts are being made to locate Miller's relatives.

WHAT A WOMAN SHOULD DO WHEN SHE IS WEAK AND NERVOUS

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN HAVE SURPRISINGLY INCREASED THEIR STRENGTH, ENERGY AND ENDURANCE IN TWO WEEKS TIME BY THIS SIMPLE EXPERIMENT.

On account of the terrible weakness, nervousness and alarming symptoms, which are often produced by iron starvation of the blood, frequently the sufferer never suspects the real cause of her trouble but thinks she has some other ailment. As a result of iron starvation you may suffer from headaches, dizziness, shortness of breath or heart palpitation, pains across the back, loss of memory, weak will-power, inclination to the "blues," disturbance of digestion, loss of appetite, sleepless nights, night sweats and so on. In such cases do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration but eat more spinach and green vegetables and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them for a while and see what a difference it makes. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, while organic iron like Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Beware of substitutes. Look for the name "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.

DEFENSE TESTS ARE SCORED

Methodist Speakers at Ada Oppose Rise of Militarism

OFFICIALS ARE NAMED

Merger Plans to Be Considered by Body Thursday

ADA.—(Special)—Another broadside at the national defense test was fired at the West Ohio conference of the Methodist church on Wednesday, when Rev. Cyrus M. Van Pelt of Cincinnati attacked the move in his memorial address for ministers who died during the year.

"We went over to Europe to fight militarism," he declared, "and returned with iron fold the militarism we had before. The notion of preparedness for war that we may have peace is not a half truth, but a whole lie."

Immediately after Dr. Van Pelt's address the conference was formally organized. Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Cincinnati presiding. Mr. Valorous Brown of Xenia was named secretary. With these assistants: Rev. A. J. Keast, Bellefontaine; R. B. Foster, Dayton; and J. H. Denny, Hamilton. Rev. Calvin W. Horn of Dayton was named conference treasurer, with these assistants: Rev. J. D. Darling, Marion; G. D. Hall, Bryan; J. L. Utter, Cincinnati; and J. T. Vocum, of Wilshire.

The result of the balloting has not been made public.

Annual meetings of the Preacher's Relief society and of the United Ministers' association were held on Wednesday afternoon. The anniversary of Deaconess work was also celebrated.

Rev. J. B. Hawk delivered an address on "The Drive of Methodism in the Evangelization of Country Life," and Rev. P. Watson Hanna of Drew Theological Seminary led the services during the evangelistic hour.

Bishop Henderson, Dr. Hannan and about 50 other members of the conference were guests of the Ada Kiwanis club on Wednesday night. Both of the noted churchmen made brief addresses, stressing the need of the application of Christian principles in business life.

The proposed merger of the Ohio and West Ohio conferences is the chief item of business to come before the session on Thursday. Speeches of the day will be given by the Rev. Warren J. Dunham, Bishop Henderson, Dr. Hannan and Bishop Frederick Thomas Kenney of Omaha, Neb.

In many instances the beneficiaries of his generosity and kindness never knew the name of the benefactor who aided them.

Geers' record of more than 50 years on the race track is known to every follower of the great American sport. He won victories and fasted defeat. In his time he drove some of the world's most famous horses. His affection for horses and his steadfast devotion to racing, together with his well known record for clean sportsmanship, made him one of the picturesque figures of turfdom.

HUSBAND BLACKS WIFE'S EYE. PETITION ASSERTS

Charging that Lester J. Mills, Butler co. struck her in the eye, blackening the member, Mrs. Elsie Ida Mills, 525 E. Highland, instituted action for divorce Thursday, naming him defendant in the case.

The two were married in December in 1919, she recites in the petition. Mills promised to be good to her, she says, and to provide well.

Instead he provided "little or nothing at all and she was forced to work her self. Besides, hitting her in the eye, the wife asserts she was victim of other abusive tactics.

Mills was fond of liquor, the plaintiff says, and when drinking was mean to her and also beat and abused her children by a former marriage. In addition the defendant is said to have expensed his time in holding a job, which was fired almost as soon as fired, the petition alleges.

New School Plan

Recommendations of Superintendent Of-fenhauer to the board of education with reference to the semi annual promotion of students have been adopted. The Lima schools now will be divided into two semesters instead of one term of the entire school year.

While we admit that we know little about the advanced theories of education, the arguments set forth by the new superintendent appear to us to be sound and the plan should, if it works as he says. It will, be most advantageous.

One of the principal arguments in favor of the two semester plan as set forth is that a student who fails the first half year may start afresh and get at least a half year credit. This was not possible under the old plan where the year was not divided. Then, a student who was far behind his class at the midyear and who knew he would surely fail at the end of the year, had no incentive to work the last half. He would be inclined to loaf thru the course, knowing he would get no credit.

Such a condition would be detrimental to the morale of the student body, we believe. All theories aside, it appears that dividing the year so that a new start may be made after the first half and so that children moving here from other cities after school starts and those who become of school age after the fall term begins may start in at the first of the second semester in a sensible plan. We cannot see that there could be any argument against it, barring perhaps, that of cost, which will be slightly more. But the advantages should outweigh the increased cost.

Our schools are the most important institution in our city. They should be operated to give children the widest opportunities. Cost, within reason, must always be a second consideration. We believe too much theory is incorporated in our schools today; that too much buncome is taught, things that are theoretically good for the children but which never amount to much when they go out to make their mark in the world. Common sense should apply in school administration as well as any place.

Guardian Angel

Here's a fellow who imagined he was ill. Doctors couldn't find anything definitely wrong with him. Yet he was constantly afraid he was threatened by dread maladies. A twinge of stomachache and he feared cancer. A shooting pain in the right side; he rushed to his physician, afraid he had appendicitis.

Since the war, doctors' offices are cluttered with these neurasthenics and hypochondriacs. The source of the trouble of most of them is mental or in an unbalanced condition of endocrine glands.

This particular fellow had all the tricks of the "hypo". Including sitting for a quarter hour taking his pulse. With his attention concentrated on it, his heart naturally responded to his nervous tension and began to run fast. He was sure he had organic valvular trouble.

The only way to cure most of these cases is to get them to forget about themselves. Nearly every doctor agrees that many maladies (at least, imaginary) can be generated by thought—especially digestive disturbances. Imaginary ailments, forgotten, disappear.

This apprehensive patient's latest tangent from normal was an obsession that he was getting tuberculosis of the lungs. Began to take his temperature every hour or so.

Broke a clinical thermometer. Broke another. So on. Finally he'd dropped and smashed nearly a dozen. Started him thinking.

"I believe," he told his physician, "that my guardian angel broke those thermometers to get word across to me that I was to forget my temperature. Do you believe in spiritualism?"

Doctor didn't. Said so. He claims his patient's nervousness caused him to drop his thermometers. Or maybe it was his subconscious mind announcing its revolt at being interfered with too much by his conscious mind. At any rate, he's cured—has forgotten his worries, and is in A-1 health.

We don't all believe in guardian angels. But we certainly do get "hunches" now and then that seem to be messages from "the other side." Maybe this "psychic beyond" is really the subconscious mind or a sixth sense that slumbers most of the time. Maybe not. That's for the individual to decide for himself.

But no one can deny the existence of "hunches," inspirations and premonitions of impending disaster or approaching death. Slumbering in us are mysterious powers.

Recklessness

Tied together with ropes, three Italian mountain climbers slip and fall. Going over a precipice, the rope catches on a rock. They hang suspended above a deep chasm five hours before rescued.

The curious part of it is that they will continue their mountain climbing, which is about the last word in useless occupations. Man risks unlimited danger when the goal is futile. In practical pursuits he is cautious. Many a fellow who wouldn't gamble $10, for fear of losing it, tries to beat the train to the crossing with his auto.

Confidence In Money

Money in circulation totals over 4665 million dollars, Uncle Sam reports. Over a third of this is Federal Reserve paper money, much of which is backed only by commodities—warehouse stocks, carloads of bricks, etc.

We're gradually losing the gold and silver fetish by the "elastic currency" route. It doesn't make any difference what's back of money, as long as the public has confidence in it. It was loss of public confidence, quite as much as printing gigantic amounts, that knocked the props from under German mark.

Our Soldiers

Enlisted strength of the regular army is now about 124,000 men. This is one soldier to protect the lives and property of every 900 Americans.

Each soldier is guardian of two or three million dollars worth of national wealth. You wouldn't think so, to examine their pay.

INSURANCE OF SOUND TEETH

Dental or oral hygiene has been about as widely and as thoroughly practiced in America as there is any likelihood it ever can be, and we ought to be able by this time to form a reasonably sound opinion of its value. My own peculiar notion about it is not the popular one. I think it is almost a total failure. Whenever or whenever statistical data are gathered it seems that dental hygiene has little if any influence upon the preservation of the teeth. When strictly scientific observation and study of the practice of brushing the teeth are made, we find little if any evidence that this rite is worth while. The present practice of dental hygiene is based upon the theory that cleanliness of the mouth cavity is the most essential factor in the preservation of the teeth for those who have led in the dental hygiene movement believe that decay of the teeth is brought about by the fermentation of particles of food debris upon or between the teeth, this fermentative process being due to bacterial activity. In short, the central motif in dental hygiene is antisepsis. Antisepsis is now almost obsolete in surgery, it has no reputation even in sanitation, why do the dental hygienists still cling to the broken reed? Can anybody imagine a tooth paste vendor disclaiming any particular germ disinfecting property for his preparation? Can anybody conceive such a vendor publicly affirming that his product has no greater antiseptic value than the soap which is its main ingredient? Somehow the present day dental hygienist reminds me of the Dutch housewife on the kitchen scouring powder the tooth brush and silk floss being just as effective as the Dutch housewife's club is against dirt.

I agree with Professor E. V. McCollum as far as he goes in the second edition of his "The Newer Knowledge of Nutrition" (MacMillan). He says the present movement for the preservation of the nation's teeth is founded upon a plan which will call for more and ever more investment of time, money and human effort with no prospect of relief from the burden. This is because it ignores the developmental factor. Then a little further along McCollum writes in italics "In the prevention of dental caries (which means decay of the teeth, cavity formation) the only effective measure is to adopt a policy which will result in the formation of a dental mechanism possessing its own barriers of defense. This involves the developmental factor, which those now in infancy no longer have the opportunity to profit by, but we can easily, if we apply the scientific principles of nutrition to the daily life of the nation, leave to our children's children the priceless heritage of sound teeth.

Our children's children. The idea is you see that in order to insure sound teeth, you've got to correct the diet of the parents. There is reason to believe that the expectant mother's diet has an important influence upon the development and soundness of the teeth of the child. The diet of the infant has less influence, perhaps. Professor McCollum indicates the three chief principles in insurance of sound teeth. First, he holds instead of the present consumption of half a pint of fresh milk the daily ration should be at least a quart for every individual. Second, a liberal amount of the leafy vegetables, which are "protective foods." Third, taking regularly a certain of raw vegetable food for the specific purpose of providing the body with a sufficient amount of the vitamin which prevents scurvy and other nutritional defects.

JUST FOLKS

BY BENJAMIN A. GUEST

DRUGGERY

If there is a task that you're eager to do
You will never, by wishing, achieve it;
You must stick to your duty until it is through
For you're not a success if you leave it.
If there is a mountain you're eager to climb
Just take this brief hint from my rhyming,
You can make it, my boy, with one step at a time;
But you won't if you ever stop climbing.

The way out of duties you don't like to do
Is just get busy and do them;
To whimper and grumble won't change them for you,
It's quicker to buckle down to them;
Oh, this is the simplest of lessons
And yet so many seem, will not learn it.
The best and the surest way Fortune to get
Is to turn in and hustle and earn it.

The way to the end of the road may seem long
And you'll reach it by keeping on walking;
Your heart must be stout and your legs must be strong
And you mustn't waste precious hours talking;
There is little which comes to a man with a rush,
He must work when his spirit is fainting;
Michael Angelo gave us things from his brush
But he did it by constantly painting.

If you would write books you sit down and write,
For the unwritten dream's never heard of;
Had Shakespeare not toiled with his pen through the night,
Then his plays we'd have never a word of.
There is nothing worth while man has learned how to do,
However at last you may view it.
But means drudgery, drudgery, many a day through
And the will and the spirit to do it.

Credits Peggen For Quick Relief

Hunter's Drug Store, the Peggen Agency in Lima, continues to receive endorsements of this famous herbal discovery from well known local people.

"I am ever so grateful for the good Peggen has done for me," said Mrs. Leah Frock, of 864 E. High-st. "For over a year I did not know what it was to get a sound night's sleep. My stomach gave me lots of trouble and after my meals, particularly at night, I would have attacks of gas and bloating. I used to have such uncomfortable, stuffed up bloated feeling. My tongue would be coated and often I had severe headaches.

"Peggen, tho, has made me feel like a different person. It is just wonderful the way the medicine helps, right from the first dose. Now I am in fine health and feel able to eat anything I want without it disagreeing with me. Get Peggen and get well is what I say."

The genuine Peggen is packed in a white and blue carton and may be obtained in Lima only at Hunter's Drug Store, 49 Public Square, corner Main and Weyss and the Argonne Store. There is a Peggen store in every nearby town.

ABE MARTIN

Another argument again being a grandstander is that their allies should be. We never realize how much it is to get the front with a good education till we read that a fellow had a postman's examination. 't be postmaster of Indiana.

Thither out to the city, and it took me some time to pass six squares of distance. Pedestrians and delivery wagons more plentiful than I ever did see. Unless betimes, it is my pedometers growing nervous with age. This being, as all know who buy death insurance that period when your age changes and every fool policy you were ever examined for, falls fearfully due.

Knowing this full well early over to the American money, to greet Chief Harris newly come from the wilds of Michigan. Where he caught not one of the buny, who listened graviously to his tale of how he had the biggest one in the lake twice on his hook. He, in so jaunty long hair, whooped him, I would bet a pretty bank of kale to go against the early autumn remittances. At which he went back to fishing, betimes saving nothing at all.

Out and away, up the Main-st still with its coating of confetti, meeting thereon Barrister Kirk, with a sheaf of important papers, metrol. Back to the shoppe, and at my arriving when came the National Corrier, for a sweetener. And this, saints be praised, was enabled to do, most noble. The discourse nowadays is on the women's new fall wears and weaves and the style adopted for the collure. What with this mannish era, women governors and bobbed haired deputy sheriffs, almony should be working both ways.

To the B & O trainshed, bidding Bill Fridley bon voyage, against his going northward. There saw few boarding cars, as in the days before petrol buses and rumbling trolleys. Came John Harlow, the one-time near-mayor, but he passed me up for Adolph's office.

So, to my barber's, who was all axles, having won a prize in the masquerade. Why he should ever masquerade to enter, could not very well see. Stopped him before the crushed flower stage and got off with a shilling, the first so idly spent of the new month.

Dined happily, a deux with my wife poor wretch, very sweet in a seeming new house gown, tho in fear did not venture so to remark. She, at home over a two-pound box of candy, parcelled to her by an old and trusted friend. So, rather merrie, in brave discourse about affairs, and then with her to cast up the kitchen accounts. Finding her short some seven shillings, six pence. For which she received upraising she took ill, well, and the evening went all awry. Then, to my bed.

MISS KAHLE IS UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Trinity Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of a very attractive wedding when, on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Katherine Isabel Kahle, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Kahle, 204 S. Cedar, became the bride of Oliver Lockwood Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Williams of Flushing, New York City, formerly of Lima.

The marriage service was presided by a minister of the church, which was assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Hoffman, pastor of the church. The bride, wearing a pink tulle, carried a bouquet of yellow roses, and the groom, in a tuxedo, carried a bouquet of white flowers. The ceremony was held in the Trinity church, which was filled with guests.

The bride's gown was of white georgette with the skirt fashioned with silk ruffles edged with lace. Trimmings of silver and white satin ribbon were used and her veil was of white tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies. Miss Allene Williams wore orchid georgette.

Jack Pickford, who is 38 years of age, should be addressed care The United Artists Corporation, 729 7th-av, New York City; Charlie Chaplin's address is 1116 La Brea-av, Los Angeles; he is 25 years of age; Harold Lloyd, who is 31 years of age, can be addressed at 402 Irving-blvd, Los Angeles; Jack Holt's address is also 485 Fifth-av, New York City; Mary Pickford's address is care "Pickfair," Hollywood, Cal.; she is 31 years of age; and Ruth Roland, who is 28 years of age, can be addressed at 1623 Carson-av, Hollywood, Cal. It would be very nice if these stars would send you their pictures and I am sure they will if you ask them. Weren't you glad to get Jack Hoxie's picture?

BEFORE TWINS WERE BORN

Was Very Miserable. Felt Lots Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wyeona, Wis. "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my twins were born because my sister used it and recommended it to me. I was so ill I could scarcely go about my daily work. I was in such a miserable condition that I was taking the compound and bottle I was feeling better. I took three bottles and a half and finished the bottle while I was in bed. I am up feeling fine and have taken care of the twins alone ever since. I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future."

It is remarkable, Wyeona, Wis. have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after childbirth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. It is prepared for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother both before and after childbirth. It is prepared from medicinal herbs and can be taken by nursing mothers.

THE NERVOUS WRECK

by E. J. Rath

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The "Nervous Wreck," an eccentric character, is driving Sally Morgan from her father's ranch in the morning when they run out of gasoline. At the point of a gun the wreck takes five gallons from a passing car.

Later Charlie McSwain, foreman of a ranch along the route, makes a run for a car. He wants to get away because he wants to get away from the wreck. Underwood, the owner of the wreck, is the car which he had up. Sheriff Bob Wells, Sally's father, is immediately searching for the wreck. Sally and the wreck finally escape from the ranch and into a camp of up. Sally is captured a second time, and then escape again. Fleeing from the wreck camp, they are pursued by a redoubtable horse in the woods.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"There's another one roaming around here somewhere," she said.

"Listen again."

After a short interval both heard it—a faint whinny from off among the trees.

"Don't move," said Sally. "This is my answer in a minute. They'll get together, or else I don't know horses."

Presently her prediction was realized, but it took another call from the distance before the bridled horse answered.

"Stay right here, Henry. The other one will come to us. You might have that rifle ready, just in case—There may be somebody riding it, you know, looking for this one."

The second horse was advancing more rapidly now. There was another interchange of calls and Sally clung more tightly to the handle. The wreck stood tense, ready to shoot at anything that looked like a man. Sally cautioned him not to be too quick; she did not want any blood-letting unless it was a final alternative.

Out of the brush and into the dim light came a second riderless horse.

"Hold this one," said Sally, giving the horse the wreck.

An instant later she had a second horse.

"Bridled and saddled like the first one," she exclaimed. "Did you ever hear of such luck?"

"What do you make out of it?" "They must belong to Nosey and Lefty. I suppose they left them standing somewhere, maybe, while they got out of the storm themselves, and the poor things got scared and ran away. I don't blame them."

"Well, what are we going to do with them?"

Sally perched at him thru the gloom, as if trying to see whether he was serious.

"Do with them?" she echoed in amazement. "What do you usually do with a horse? Kill it? You big sissy, we're going to ride them. The wreck made a grimace.

"How about my car," he demanded. "Aren't we going to look for that?"

"No, we're not. Are you crazy? So long as we've got their horses let them keep the car. We don't want to go messing around that camp again tonight. We're liable to get ourselves into trouble again. Don't try to push your luck too far, Henry Williams. We're in our luck now—we've got their horses, two of them, anyhow. And we've got one rifle. What more could we ask?"

He pondered the proposition solemnly. He could not treat the idea of abandonment so lightly; for that it was particularly valuable to him in dollars but there was a bond of sentiment to be considered. Yet he could see the sound sense at the bottom of her verdict. After all, he was primarily responsible for getting Sally Morgan either aboard a train or back to the Bar-M. The wreck would have to take its chances.

"Oh, all right," he growled.

"Why, of course," said Sally.

"Then which way do we go?"

"We ought to try to hit for the main road. That seems to be the most sensible thing to do. Well, probably be able to get our horses then. I'd wait till daylight, only I don't think we ought to. I'm afraid we're too near the camp. They'll be out looking for these horses. They can't afford to lose them."

"They've got my car," he reminded her.

"But maybe they can't run it. It's one thing to ride a horse around this country; but when it comes to exploring it in a car, well, you've got to be an expert."

He merely grunted at the comment, for he suspected that she was only joking.

"You'd better ride the one that you caught," she added. "He's all coddled down now. Can you count him?"

"Certainly I can," snapped the wreck. "But what are you riding now? You haven't any riding horse."

Sally looked in the darkness. The wreck had scaled the side of the first captive and was trying to find a comfortable place in the saddle. Sally made a flying start at the second.

"You'd better let me go ahead," she said. "We'll just walk while we're in the woods. And don't let yourself be knocked off by a horse. Come on."

They set off at a slow pace, Sally leading her animal its head, and the wreck following her in the direction she thought they should go.

Now, determined not to be caught again, so that all that he had to do was to balance himself in the saddle and fend off the wreck with the rifle.

They had but a vague idea of where they should go to seek the wreck. The wreck, however, was content merely to consideration in Sally's

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Insomniac's Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

Letter from Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott to Mrs. John Alden Prescott.

MY DEAR LESLIE:

I'm greatly surprised that you have not come home before this. I thought of course the moment your father was out of danger you would hurry back to your husband and son.

Surely you know that when a woman marries her place is with her husband especially when her child is also there.

I cannot hold with these new fashioned ideas which allow a mother to leave and go gallivanting all over the country. Of course I know when you are with your father you have no responsibilities whatever; but you certainly have already had a good rest, and I think you should be here.

John is evidently very much overworked. He looks worried. He has not been home to dinner for at least a week. He tells me he works every evening, and it would be foolish for him to come home just to eat. He told me this over the phone from his office where I called him up yesterday. I had not seen him for over a week, and he had no time to talk to me from his office.

Sarah, too, seems very peculiar about little Jack. She will not let him come to my apartment unless she comes with him. I insist that he shall come here at least once a day, but Sarah is very arbitrary. She hangs around all the time. She will not even let him have a cookie when he comes to Grandma's. I told her when Jack's father was little there was a cookie jar just behind the door and all the children in the neighborhood were privileged to go to it whenever they felt like eating. We made cookies every day in the week.

By the way, your cook has left. Dear Priscilla Bradford is making my coffee for me in the morning and we are going out to our lunches and dinners. Just because dear Priscilla offered to make some Boston baked beans and brown bread, which I have not had since I came to be with you, our cook got very angry. She said she was not going to have anyone poking around her kitchen.

Priscilla said she thought it was a good thing the cook left, as she never had seen such disorder and extravagance in her life. Why, she said you had three different packages of sugar in your store closet. She spoke of this to the cook, and she was very impudent to dear Priscilla—told her that she had no business to come poking around your place.

She hurt Priscilla's feeling to such an extent that the brown bread was not a success. We could not eat it, and the beans were burned. Priscilla said it was all on account of the cook making her so unhappy that she could not think of anything except the servant's impudence.

When all this happened I order and extravagance in her life. Why, she said you had three different packages of sugar in your store closet. She spoke of this to the cook, and she was very impudent to dear Priscilla—told her that she had no business to come poking around your place.

Facts About Child-birth

It has been proven conclusively that much of the suffering, pain and dread experienced during childbirth, as well as at child-birth is entirely unnecessary.

An eminent physician, Dr. J. H. Holmes, expert in this science, first produced the great remedy "Mother's Friend," which aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily, during the constant readjustment month after month, right up to the climax of childbirth.

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally. Three generations of expectant mothers have used it. "Pains disappeared in two days after using 'Mother's Friend,'" writes a user. "I owe my life to 'Mother's Friend,'" declared another. Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Start today and experience the wonderful comfort it will give you.

called up John at his office, and he told me he would not return to the apartment until Priscilla had left. Of course this put me in a terrible position, as I could not pointlessly ask her to go, and she said nothing about it.

Miss Anderson, too, has been acting very strangely lately. She is not her sunny self at all. In fact, she told me yesterday that she was worn out, and would probably have to take a vacation as soon as you return.

You can see you are needed here much more than in your father's house, where you have probably every luxury.

Your loving mother.

Delphos Society

Members of the Wino Lake club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. R. E. Crofton, W. Third at Friday afternoon.

Charity Workers' club members met at the home of Mrs. M. J. Lemker, W. Second at Thursday evening and an evening of interesting entertainment was furnished by the hostess.

Members of the W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting Friday evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. L. C. Allinger, W. Second-st.

NEAR DEATH
DELPHOS — Frank Hartman, 61 retired farmer, is in the Methodist hospital at Ft. Wayne, probably seriously injured as the result of an automobile accident in that city which occurred several days ago.

Kellogg's Bran delights father by bringing health to children

Poor little kids—they needed bran badly. But they wouldn't eat anything but Kellogg's Bran. They didn't like them. Most kids don't. Then their father tried Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. What a difference! He tells the story in his letter.

"Dear Sirs:
I wish to express my appreciation of your krumbled bran, which I have used for my children this summer. We had a great deal of trouble with them this summer and bran had been the most satisfactory remedy but they could not be induced to take the old varieties. . . . because they disliked them so. They enjoy the krumbled bran and consider it an essential ingredient of their porridge. No one whose children have not been troubled in this way can appreciate the relief there is in having their bowels move regularly."
(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Constipation is a dangerous disease. It should not be neglected. But do not try half-way measures in seeking relief. Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran and it takes ALL bran to be 100% effective. Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. The flavor is delicious. Sprinkle it on other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes on every package. It will bring you health. Begin eating it today. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.
